The Anniverſary of his Daniſh Majeſty's Birth-day falling out this Year on Sunday the 31ſt paſt, the Celebration of it was deferred till Yeſterday, and then performed with great Magnificence and all poſſible Demonſtrations of Joy. The Knights of the two Orders appeared at Court in their reſpective Habits of Ceremony, the Ladies in Robes à la Romaine, and a very numerous Company of both Sexes were entertained in the Drawing-Room with Muſick and a Play, and afterwards with a Supper at the King's Table, but it being ſo near the Holy Week there was no Ball. The 2d Inſtant M. de Lowendahl joined the Army at Marche en Famine, and afterwards proceeded by Hotton to Boumal, where the Head Quarter was the 4th; and laſt Night M. de Lowendahl lay at Auwaille. While the Troops marched towards Marche en Famine, a Detachment was ſent to Great Mondane to cover their Flank, and returned as ſoon as they were paſſed. On the 4th Inſtant, at Four in the Morning, they ſent from Namur four Pontons, four Mortars, eight ſmall Cannon, and 100 Waggons with Ammunition of all Kinds; they followed the ſame Road the Army had marched, and this Convoy was covered by 100 Men poſted at Andenne.
